

King's Cross Station

Description

King's Cross Station is London's busiest train station and a central hub for the UK National Rail service. It provides connections to other parts of England, Scotland, and Wales and international destinations. The station got its name from a statue of King George IV, built near the station's location in 1836.

Metadata

- City: London
- Country: United Kingdom
- GPS Coordinates: 51.5319° N, 0.1235° W
- Common Services And Infrastructures: Transportation
- Cadastral Number: GB.CS.TR.L.1